No. 7635-6 Dated Bangalore, 23 December 1898.
Pro 1723

Order.- The Military Assistant and the Inspector General of Police are requested to be so good as to prepare and submit for the orders of Government, as early as possible, a joint scheme in accordance with the following decisions of Government:

"After the most careful deliberation, the Mysore Government have arrived at the following conclusions, which in their opinion are of a most urgent nature and should be carried into effect as quickly as possible in consultation with the British Government:

(1). The Police of the State should be reorganised and their number increased so as to be able to entrust to them the duties of the guarding of Treasuries and Jails and the escort of treasure and prisoners, the Barr being relieved of these duties and a corresponding reduction made in their number.

(2). A sufficient Reserve should be maintained in each District if possible, but at all events at convenient centres, to put down all riots and local disturbances, and in a fit state of preparation, and ready for concentration for extraordinary emergencies. The Reserve thus maintained will be a part of the District Police Force and will be available for the ordinary duties of the Police, including the guards and escorts referred to.

(3). In addition to the District Reserves, a special Reserve should be maintained for duties of a semi-military nature, and,

(4). Both the District and Special Reserves should be armed with breech-loading fire-arms.'

And that, in drawing up the scheme in accordance with the above decisions, the Military Assistant and the Inspector General of Police will, as far as possible, be guided by the Police system of the neighbouring ~~Districts~~ Presidencies of British India, as regards equipment of the force, the regulation of its duties &c."
